SNFCC through your Lens: Calling all photographers to participate in our outdoor photo exhibition!

To celebrate the two-year anniversary from the day it opened its doors to the public, the Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center (SNFCC) invites photographers of all skill levels to participate in a group photography exhibition that will showcase moments of SNFCC life through their lenses.

The images may have been captured at an earlier date. They can focus on architecture, or a moment in time – any time of the year, any SNFCC area. Creative interpretations of this topic are encouraged!

This call for entries is free to enter for all photographers around the world over the age of 18. You may submit your entry on SNFCC.org/fence until 2 September 2018. Once the call for entries has come to a close, a jury of highly-regarded photography curators, academics and representatives of the organizers will review all images submitted for consideration. The images selected by the Jury will be presented as a large-scale outdoor photography exhibition at the SNFCC. The exhibit will span a length of 400 meters, installed along the perimeter of the SNFCC.

The exhibition will be designed and produced by the New York based organization United Photo Industries in its signature "FENCE" exhibition style, and will be open for all visitors to explore and enjoy, thanks to an exclusive grant by the Stavros Niarchos Foundation.

Looking forward to your entries!
Admission to August events is free of charge thanks to an exclusive grant by the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF) to ensure that they are accessible by all.
In this ever-evolving archive, Action Hero creatively fuse installation and performance, while creating a love-song saga, in an audio broadcast from the literal edges of the continent – a hopeful, reparative act, and an attempt to build connections. Detached from political sound bites, diplomacy, or art-speak, the messages instead speak in song about who we are and how we feel, straight from the heart.

Their archive, constantly enriched with love songs in all European languages, will broadcast 24/7 by beacons placed by the artists throughout the continent, on its literal edges, as well as on borders, hinterlands and divides, both political and historical, natural and geographical, imagined and real. If you want to listen to the broadcast, you can navigate to the beacon nearest you, including the one at SNFCC of course, using the Oh Europa app, a free download for iOS and Android.

Oh Europa invites us to re-imagine the terrains of Europe - psychic, emotional, political and physical, offering an opportunity to re-orientate and re-imagine our relationships with each other and with the space we share.

Action Hero, in a farewell to Athens before leaving for their next destination, are inviting us to a Full Moon Party featuring DJ The Dreamer, who will set the mood with love songs.

The Dreamer is a multifaceted artist who loves pastel colors and playful patterns, co-founder of Neon Raum, publisher of Fluffer Everyday magazine and co-organizer of Purple Night parties.
Idra Kayne and her eight-member boy band, describe through classic hits that have defined a whole era, what would it be like if she were a boy.

Combining elements from Kilaidonis, Nirvana, Michael Jackson and Take That, the city's soul-funk diva promises an evening of music you will not want to miss. The elegance of strings blends with the rebellious hard rock and the carefree dancepop music in a party, tribute to some very special songs that we have loved, sung and danced to.

Arranged by Alexandros Livitsanos for two violins, two cellos, double bass, piano and drums, these covers will definitely excite and surprise you.

Featuring:
Idra Kayne, vocals
Alexandros Livitsanos, piano
Giorgos Kasteletos, drums
Dimitris Schizas, guitar
Kostas Koritzis, violin
Stamatela Spinola, violin
Giorgos Tamiolakis, cello

Eight years ago, they met Sugahspank!, and together became one of the most dynamic and prominent live acts in Athens. Their musical background lies in the blues and gospel, yet it is filtered through the band’s inventive spirit, and experimental energy. The Jazz Octet, of the Athens Military Band brings the month to a relaxing wrap up with the Blue Mood concert, a throwback to the history of jazz that combines Afro-American elements with contemporary jazz. Jazz Octet has performed in many concert venues, including the Athens Concert Hall, the Thessaloniki Concert Hall and Technopolis – City of Athens; it has been featured on Jazz in the City radio show on ERT’s Third Program. The Jazz Octet has received critical acclaim for its projects Tribute to Duke Ellington (2015) and Cuba to the World (2016).

At the SNFCC concert, the audience will have the opportunity to enjoy selections from these two projects as well as compositions by the great Duke of jazz, the unique Duke Ellington, and do a fly-over to Latin America to bring back favorite tunes by Chucho Valdés, Chick Corea, Paquito D’Rivera and more.
PARK YOUR CINEMA

LIFE IS A SATIRE

In August, Park Your Cinema at Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center presents five seminal films from different film schools and eras, which view life through the lens of satire.

Peter Sellers finds all the wrong ways to safeguard a legendary diamond, Monty Python mock all that our civilization stands for, Greta Garbo gets a taste of the lush life of the capitalist West, Woody Allen leads a revolution in Latin America and Gene Kelly floats in the wake of the change caused by the introduction of sound in film. Marquee names, classic films and laughing out loud in the city’s most beautiful wide open space – the Stavros Niarchos Park’s Great Lawn.

Lying on the grass under the Attic sky. Can you think of a better way to go to the movies this summer?

Program curated by Elias Frangoulis

Visitors are advised to bring insect repellent and a mat, or other similar item for sitting on the ground.

Monty Python’s The Meaning of Life (1983)

Friday 18/08 | 21:00

The title says it all! All-British Monty Python team revisits the BBC television show modular format that made them famous, and dare to reply to many of humanity’s most pressing existential questions, cannibalizing the entire universe as they go. The role of religion, sexual orientation, capitalist greed, the onset of death and “The End of Film,” everything is ridiculed, translated into extreme surreal humor. Jury’s Special Grand Prix, Festival de Cannes 1983

Directed by: Terry Jones, Terry Gilliam

The Pink Panther (1963)

Friday 03/08 | 21:00

The clueless Inspector Clouseau travels to Italy, hoping to catch one of the world’s most wanted jewelry thieves, who has Princess Dala’s Pink Panther diamond in his sights. A legendary satire of the mystery adventure genre, in a nostalgic and cosmopolitan setting, featuring the debut of the homonymous cartoon character and Henry Mancini’s Oscar-nominated music. The film’s huge success led to a profitable franchise, 11 sequels, spin-offs and remakes! This film turned Peter Sellers into a star!

Directed by: Blake Edwards

Ninotchka (1939)

Friday 17/08 | 21:00

Three Russians are in Paris on a mission to sell jewelry, confiscated from the aristocracy during the Russian Revolution of 1917. They will be seduced by high life, and the Russian homeland will send out a dedicated comrade to check up on them. She will fall in love with a man who stands for everything she hates. This American satire of the Stalinist Soviet Union evokes a careless and free European society just before plunging into the vortex of World War II. Nominated for four Oscars, this film remains legendary, just because... Greta Garbo laughs!

Directed by: Ernst Lubitsch

In August, Park Your Cinema Kids presents riveting animated adventure films for people of all ages! Felonious Gru and his Minions, the adventurous Tintin, bad-guy Ralph from a vintage arcade game, and Aladdin’s lamp will all take you to magical worlds and tell stories in the way only animation films can.

Program curated by Elias Frangoulis

Despicable Me 3 (2017)
Felonious Gru has left his criminal past behind and is now a model family man – until, that is, he reunites with his lost twin brother, the blond-haired Dru, who is just as susceptible to organized crime. The appearance of a new “bad guy” will make him reconsider his decision to go straight. The threequel of Illumination’s monumental box-office hit exceeded all expectations, ranking fourth most popular animated film in history! Naturally, the much-loved Minions also played a large role in this success.

Directed by: Kyle Balda, Pierre Coffin, Eric Guillon
With Greek subtitles

Visitors are advised to bring insect repellent, a mat, blanket, or other similar item for sitting on the ground.

Bananas (1971)
A loner New Yorker turns into a left-wing activist as a way to get a girlfriend and ends up a revolutionary in a Latin-American country! This film is the pick of Woody Allen’s satirical comedies, unmistakably influenced by the Marx Brothers (see Duck Soup) and it was only his second attempt at directing. A barrage of gags, relentless slapstick, attacks on the U.S. foreign policy and countless all-time-best scenes – from the nightmarish parking crucifixes scene to the parody trial of the gagged witness who exposes a false witness.

Directed by: Woody Allen

Singin’ in the Rain (1952)
To cater to the ever-increasing demand for talkies in the late 1920s, a silent film production studio make a difficult transition to sound using its top movie stars. The outcome was not only a true masterpiece of a musical, but a lighthearted satire of Hollywood backstage as well. Hard to believe nowadays, yet the film had a lukewarm reception in 1952 and was nominated for a mere two Academy Awards (Best Actress in a Supporting Role for the hilarious Jean Hagen, and Best Music). Ironically, if it weren’t for this film, the Oscar-winning The Artist (2011) may never have existed.

On Friday, August 31, 2018, at sundown, the Stavros Niarchos Foundation (SNF) and its monthly series, DIALOGUES, in collaboration with the Stavros Niarchos Foundation Cultural Center (SNFCC), bid farewell to the summer, by organizing a traditional festival (panigiri) for everyone at the Great Lawn of the Stavros Niarchos Park!

The tenth event of the SNF’s monthly DIALOGUES series, introduces us to traditional festivals, the summer celebrations that are an integral part of Greek tradition. As a common means of expression for people from every corner of Greece, traditional festivals reflect the particular customs and traditions of each place where they are born. Traditional dances, folk songs, religious elements but also tastes that one usually enjoys in such gatherings are only some of the ingredients that attract people of all ages, regardless of origin, education or interests, and make up a distinct cultural event that marks our summer memories.

The August DIALOGUES will start with a discussion on Greek folk Festivals, and will triumphantly bid farewell to the summer with an outdoor celebration!

The events are open to the public on a registration basis at www.SNF.org.

Furthermore, events are live streamed and are available on demand in both video and podcast format on the SNF’s website.

In Monet’s Steps! Drawing in the Park

In this lab following in the steps of 19th century plain-air artists (Barbizon School & Impressionists such as Degas, Renoir, Monet, Van Gogh, Gourbet), participants go out into the Park and observe the natural terrain, capture shades of light and learn basic free-drawing techniques, using only dry materials (charcoal, graphite, color pencils, oil pastels) on paper.

Design-Implementation: Georgia Hatzivassiliadi, Artist, MA, MFA

Ebru Lab: Painting on Water

Ebru is a Turkish art of marbling. Ebru means “water surface.” In this introductory workshops, participants will create colorful patterns by sprinkling and brushing color pigments onto a pan of oily water and then transferring the patterns to paper. They will then print these patterns on color cardboard and envelopes to make cards and book marks.

Design-Implementation: Katerina Momitsa, Artist

We create art all together: Bird Nests

Self-taught architects, birds are able to build the most unique and functional structures for their nests. Participants will produce sophisticated nests and webs as artworks on branches, as well as tree houses. Inspired by the architect Santiago Calatrava’s biomorphic forms and Ai Weiwei’s sculptures that influenced the design concept of the Beijing National Stadium, known as the “Bird’s Nest,” participants will produce imaginative compositions and housing design forms, using a variety of wood textures.

Children and adults will spark their imagination, and gain knowledge by designing, gluing and assembling wooden forms and shapes, in producing self-sufficient, original sculptural objects for outdoor installation, able to host birds.

Design-Implementation: Theodore Zafeiropoulos, Artist; Elisavet Chelidoni, Artist, Special Education Teacher

Blue Sky Labs: Crossroads

Participants explore Stavros Niarchos Park and discover a design pattern alongside their footsteps on the paths. This consists of horizontal and vertical lines, repeated across the landscape, crossing and forming the outdoor routes. Trying their hand translating these lines onto paper, participants make their own, exciting cross-hatching patterns.

Design-Implementation: Christina Tsinisizelidou, Artist

Spyros Louis Cup

Conceived and designed by Michel Béreil for the champion of the first Marathon race – the Greek runner Spyros Louis – the Silver Cup was awarded at the first modern Olympic Games in Athens in 1896; today, it is on permanent display at the SNFCC. This historic item was acquired by the Stavros Niarchos Foundation when it became available for sale by the runner’s grandson at Christie’s. As soon as the Cup was acquired, SNF committed to making it accessible to the public, keeping it permanently on display at the SNFCC. Until then, over 3.5 million visitors had already admired the Cup when it was displayed at the Acropolis Museum in Athens and at the Olympic Museum in Lausanne.
